DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1 and 21-39 are pending and have been examined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1 and 21-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Newly added limitations not originally disclosed: obtaining a target architecture; generating an intermediate representation from the RDL description; traversing the intermediate representation to produce a program language file; and invoking the program language file using a high-level synthesis compiler to generate a graph of the target architecture.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

4. Claims 1 and 21-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bowan (US Publication 2003/0105620 A1). Paragraph 9 of the office action mailed 10 April 2006 contains a detailed rejection of claims 21-39.

Claim 1

Bowan disclosed a computer-automated method for electronic design specification comprising:

obtaining a target architecture (paragraph 0144, "Handel-C is a programming language that enables ... to target directly FPGAs");

specifying at least one resource or functionality for the target architecture using at least one construct in a Resource Description Language (RDL) to produce an RDL description (paragraph 0145, lines 6-9 and figure 84);

generating an intermediate representation from the RDL description (paragraph 0268, "compiler creates a file which in turn compiled", internals of the first compiler);

traversing the intermediate representation to produce a program language file (paragraph 0268, "creates a file which in turn compiled ... using Microsoft Visual C++"); and invoking the program language file using a high-level synthesis compiler to generate a graph of the target architecture (paragraph 0268, "Microsoft Visual C++"; figure 62-76, timing diagrams).

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 and 21-39 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
